

PRESS RELEASE
03/11/2013
From: Richard Glazebrook
Eagle & Wolf Creek State Park

Illinois Department of Natural Resources

This message is for all conservation organizations or conservation clubs!

A search will start soon to determine who has the knowledge, temperament, and courage to compete in the largest event in Illinois for youth.

As a conservation group, you have many members with children who may like to showcase their skills in the outdoors. Wolf Creek State Park will be hosting such an event for them. On May 18, 2013 at Wolf Creek State Park there will be an event to challenge all participants. The "LINKS to the FUTURE" youth festival will be providing such a challenge called "TOP GUN"!

"IT'S ABOUT WHO'S THE BEST"

This years "TOP GUN" event at the "LINKS to the FUTURE" youth event will again be featuring the best of the best competing for the "TOP GUN" award. The event will have 26 individuals participating. Each participant will compete in six challenges which will test their skills in the outdoors. Only one will be awarded the top prize and then will be recognized for their accomplishments. Thirteen from the Lincoln Trail Boy Scout Council will be chosen. Another thirteen will be selected from recognized conservation organizations or clubs. Every conservation organizations or clubs will have an opportunity to sponsor someone from their group to compete in the TOP GUN competitions. What a better way to honor someone from your organization. Do you know someone who has what it takes to compete in the "TOP GUN" competition? If your organization has someone you would like to sponsor contact Richard Glazebrook at Eagle Creek State Park.

Registration will start March 18, 2013.

For more information concerning the TOP GUN competition please contact Richard R. Glazebrook at Eagle Creek State Park. E-mail address richard.glazebrook@illinois.gov

Eagle Creek State Park
RR1 Box 198-B
Findlay, Illinois 61951
217-756-8260/Fax 756-3217