Gone Fishing!!

Two national records (number of fish per angler and total number of fish caught) were set during the Professional Muskellunge tournament Trail (PMTT) tournaments held at Lake Shelbyville. Matt Carmean landed the state record muskellunge in the Lake Shelbyville Tail waters; it measured 50 3/4" and weighed 38.8 pounds. Numerous muskellunge approaching this record have been caught and released both on the main lake and below the dam. Nine have been recorded over the 50" mark (The most of any lake). The largest released muskellunge in the Illinois Voluntary Muskellunge Creek survey was measured at 53", being the longest muskellunge ever reported in Illinois. Due to the lake's midstate location, it has a nearly year-long growing season. Along with the lake ample size of 11,100 water acres, abundant shad forage and varied structural elements help to produce true trophy sizes.

The largest recorded white bass weighed in at 4 pounds caught by Bruce Sanders and released back into the lake. Chuck Ditto caught the largest largemouth bass for the lake at 8.55 pounds in April 2009. For catfish in Lake Shelbyville, the largest weighed 62 pounds caught by Chris Rentfro. State record walleyes have also been collected by IDNR biologists with several exceeding 10 lbs. annually.

Lake Shelbyville was elected by Bass Master Magazine as one of the best bass lakes in Illinois. It has been a popular destination for largemouth bass, muskellunge and crappie tournament circuits due to the outstanding fishing success. In addition walleye, white bass and catfish are very popular among local fisherman and occasionally for tournaments. The fish population is maintained mostly through natural recruitment and annual input from the Illinois Department of Natural Resources and the Fin and Feathers Nursery Pond.

Fish populations do vary over time, but fishing quality on Lake Shelbyville is as good or better than anytime in its history. Numerous guides are available to those who are not familiar with the lake. They can be located by calling a concessionaire on the lake.

For 2012 Fishing Prospects, visit www.lakeshelbyville.com

A specially designed fishing pier is located in the Spillway Recreation Area provides individuals with disabilities with great fishing opportunity

Opossum Pond also has a reconstructed fishing pier for disabled individuals and children 12 and under. Use is not restricted to campers.

HAPPY HUNTING!

You can hunt almost anything in Shelby County. We have an abundance of wildlife both for the enthusiast who enjoys watching wildlife and the avid hunter who enjoys the thrill of the hunt. Best bets for the upcoming season include archery and gun deer hunting, rabbit and waterfowl hunting. The waterfowl opportunities are abundant in the subimpoundments for both walk-in hunters and those using boat blinds on the main lake. Other huntable wildlife species that you can expect to find on Lake Shelbyville lands in lesser numbers are: quail, pheasant, gray and fox squirrels, turkey, dove, woodcock, raccoon, fox and coyote.

Controlled dove hunting is conducted during the first two days of the dove hunting season in managed sunflower fields. These hunts limit the number of participants for quality and safety reasons where demand for the sport exceeds available hunting area.

The Annual Lake Shelbyville Deer Hunt for People with Disabilities, hosted by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and Wolf Creek State Park, takes place in November. This special three-day hunt proves to be an excellent deer-hunting experience for participating hunters. It provides a wonderful opportunity to those who would not normally be able to participate in this physically demanding sport. Handicap Archery is available at Whitley Creek, and you can reserve blinds for the archery season. To volunteer or reserve call 217-774-3951, Ext.4.

It is important to note that the management of these lands is shared between the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Illinois Department of Natural Resources, and thus regulations governing each of their respective lands may vary somewhat. Before engaging in any hunting activities at Lake Shelbyville, you should determine which agencies’ land you intend to hunt on, and what rules and regulations are in effect on those particular lands.

The vast majority of huntable State lands (6,200 acres) are located in the upper reaches of the lake along the West Okaw and Kaskaskia Rivers with site permit. They also manage Eagle and Wolf Creek State Parks. The Corps manages all other project lands. You must check with State personnel to see what species may be hunted, approved hunting methods, and effective dates before hunting in either State Park. Contact numbers: 217-756-8260 or 217-459-2831 or call IDNR Wildlife Area at 217-665-3112. For permits you can register online at dnr.state.il.us

The Pam and Bob Boarman Chevy BelAir Museum 217-774-4919

This museum opened in 2005 with Bob's private collection of Chevy's. The building is decorated in 50's sock-hop style with black and white checkered floors. The walls are lined with 50's memorabilia, Chevy clocks and neon signs. A jukebox takes you back to that popular time in history. The museum has eight vintage cars as well as a 1993 Indy Pace Car with only 28 miles on it. The museum was built so the cars could be in a controlled environment. Flags are placed around the square during Memorial Day to Labor Day. On July 3, 2002, an eternal flame was dedicated to the men and women who have served in past wars. The black granite base of the flame contains etchings, one of them depicts General Douglas MacArthur wading ashore in the Phillipines in 1945. Alongside him is Shelbyville resident August West.

Chautauqua Auditorium, built in 1903, is one of the few left in the state. Currently, a massive restoration effort has been launched. Please visit www.shelbyvillechautauqua.com for more information.

The bowled floor provided seating for 5,000 and above the stage are Grecian statues designed by Robert Root. The interior floor space of the building is 15,000 square feet and there are no posts inside the structure. The roof is supported by a unique series of beams and supports in the ceiling. It is the largest building of its kind anywhere in the world and is included on the National Register of Historic Places.

Famous speakers included William Jennings Bryan and Billy Sunday, and vibrant musicians and performers including the John Phillips Sousa Band, and the U.S. Air Force Hot Brass Band rocked the park with their performance.

General Dacey Trail

The General Dacey Trail is a multipurpose trail that is designed for walkers, runners, and bicyclists. This trail is a great place for the whole family to spend time together enjoying Mother Nature. Besides exercising, the trail is a great place for bird watching, geocaching, and photography. The trail offers users a fifteen station outdoor fitness area, located on the lower shelf by the Dam Overlook. The trail opened in 2006 and a total of four phases have been constructed with the 5th & 6th phases scheduled for 2012.

The trail heads are located at the Dam West recreation area, the Dam Overlook, or just behind the Scout Cabin in Forest Park. Trail users can explore the two of the one mile loop sections through the wooded area along Lake Shelbyville. A third phase connects Forest Park to the Dam West Recreation area and the fourth phase takes users to the Dam Overlook. Maps and information on the annual Tom Short 5k Trail Run in August and the candlelight walks in January and February can be found at www.daceytrail.org

Camp Camfield

Mountain Bikers can enjoy a single track at Camp Camfield. This site is the focus of local mountain bike activist efforts to expand single track at Lake Shelbyville. This trail challenges the intermediate skill level riders and rewards them with beautiful views of the lake. The Central Illinois Mountain Bike Association (CIMBA) works closely with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to promote development and additional trails at Camp Camfield. Information about the "Clash at the Camp" mountain bike race, held each July, can be found at www.cimba.org

BOARMAN'S ROXY THEATRE

After 37 years without an indoor movie theater, Shelbyville again has a place for movie buffs. Boarman's Roxy Theatre is the brainchild of Shelbyville automobile dealer Bob Boarman who donated $100,000 in the summer of 2003 to the Greater Shelbyville Area Chamber of Commerce if they would build a movie theater. Another generous donation was provided for the purchase of new seats, installed in October 2010.

The original Roxy closed on November 6, 1966 after showing the Disney film "Mary Poppins." The new Roxy is located in the same location in downtown Shelbyville after volunteers and members of the Roxy Theatre Management Committee, gutted the old theater building, that had been a photography studio, and rebuilt the Roxy from the brick walls out.

The theater shows current Hollywood releases, classic films, and children's films and provides other special programming. Prices are low at $4 a person. The Roxy pays homage to the glory days with a vintage-looking theater marquee featuring neon lighting, and old style fabrics and curtains inside the building.

In addition to Boarman, other businesses have donated to the theater restoration and their names are featured on a plaque in the building's lobby. Civic groups, Boy Scouts and other volunteers contributed many hours to the restoration project. Online at <http://www.boarmansroxytheatre.com>. Call 217-774-ROXY for more info.

Finding Lincoln In Shelby County

The State of Illinois is renowned as the Land of Lincoln. In Shelby County, if you go looking for Lincoln, finding him is no problem. Springfield boasts the iconic sites, but visitors can uncover the hidden gems of Shelby County and visitors can start their quest in Shelby County for a bit more color.

While a circuit-riding attorney, Lincoln could be found in Shelbyville practicing his trade, mixing with friends, and eventually becoming the man who would become the 16th President! Some even say that his political beginnings as a Republican can be found here.

Visit the Shelby County Courthouse to see the painting of the Lincoln-Thornton Debate. While everyone may have heard of the Lincoln-Douglas Debate, this debate was earlier and was Lincoln's first public speaking engagement as a Republican and he also touches on some of the same anti-slavery notions that would become so important later on.

Shelby County has SEVEN wayside exhibits as part of the Looking for Lincoln Story Trail that help explain our part in the shared story of the Abraham Lincoln National Heritage Area. Moweaqua and Strasburg each have one in their park and Shelbyville has five spread throughout the city!

The Looking for Lincoln Story Trail helps each of us and our communities bring our unique Lincoln stories to life through wayside exhibits throughout the Abraham Lincoln National Heritage Area. They help us not only take a look at the life of Abraham Lincoln, but they help us develop a better understanding of the life he lived, the people he knew, the times he lived in and the communities with whom he shared so much of his life with.

The Abraham Lincoln National Heritage Area

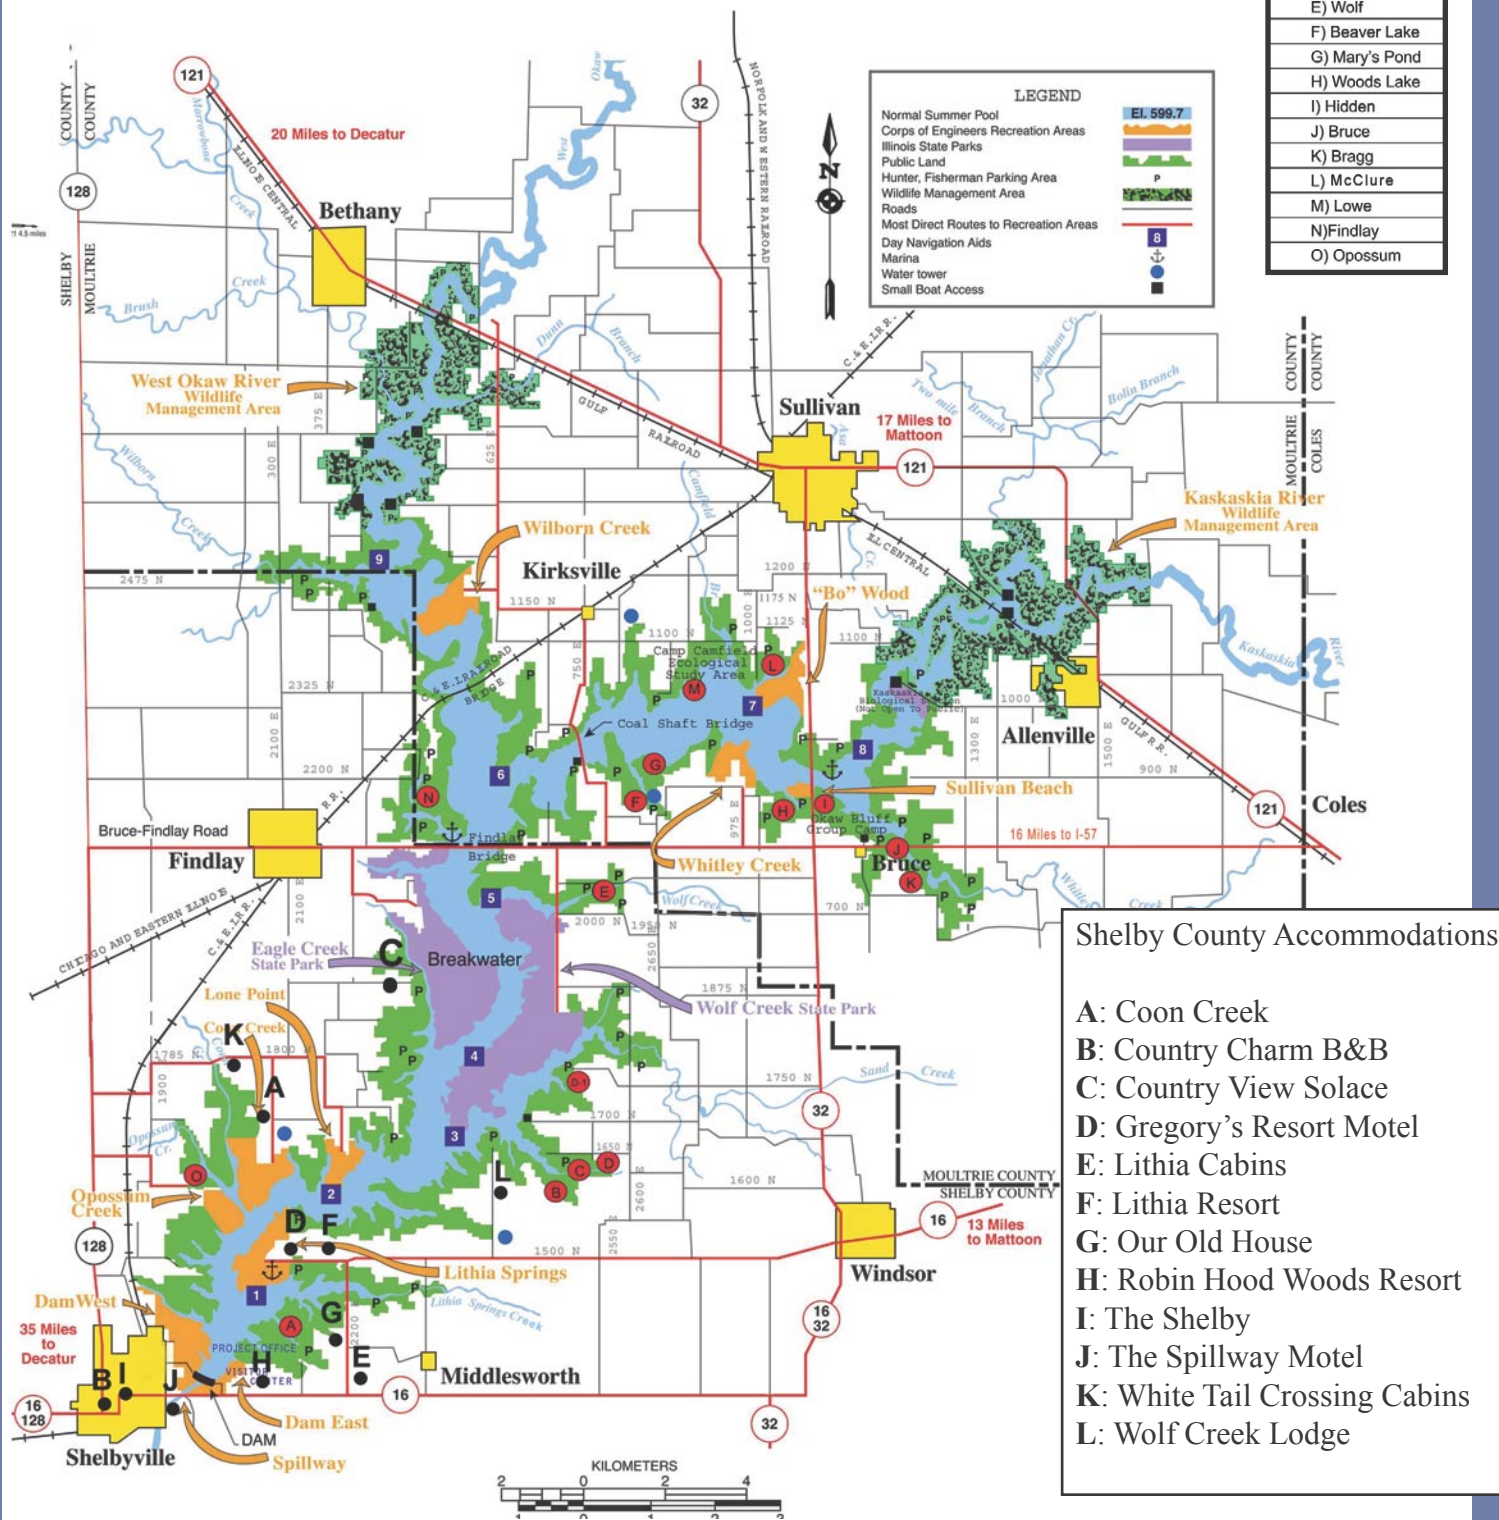

The Abraham Lincoln National Heritage Area, the only Heritage Area named for a president, is home to a very unique collection of American history surrounding America's most beloved president. It is most closely focused around the nearly 30 years Lincoln lived in Central Illinois, raising his family and pursuing his passion for the law and politics. During this time he was shaped into the man who would become the 16th President of the United States and would lead the nation through its most trying times full of unprecedented challenges with the Civil War, cleansing the scourge of slavery, and mending the nation's wounds. Join us as we discover the life of Lincoln in the Land of Lincoln. Welcome to the Abraham Lincoln National Heritage Area!

The Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum

Located in Springfield, Illinois, the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum is just a short, gorgeous drive from Lake Shelbyville. The Springfield downtown is a mere 56 scenic miles away and the Library houses one of the largest collections of Lincoln material in the world and serves not only students and scholars researching Lincoln and Illinois history, but also genealogists from around the world. The Museum is a world-class institution in which visitors can journey through Lincoln's life in Illinois from his days in New Salem to his time as a candidate for president, and on through his presidency in Washington DC, wrestling with the Civil War and Slavery, and finally his untimely death at the hands of an assassin's bullet.

Dishwasher Invented

Josephine Cochrane had ingenuity in her genes. Her great-grandfather is credited with the steamboat and her father John Garis helped build the original city of Chicago. Josephine is reported to have said, "If nobody else is going to invent a dishwashing machine, I'll do it myself."

In 1886, Josephine Cochrane of Shelbyville, patented the first dishwasher. She invented the machine in a woodshed adjoining her home, which still stands today on South Broadway. For several years, she privately promoted her company, the Cochrane's Crescent Washing Machine Company. In 1893, she unveiled her invention at the World's Fair and won the highest award. Years later, with the purchase of the original patent, her company became the now famous, KitchenAid® Company.

In 2007, Channel ARD from Germany filmed a documentary named Patents and Talents. They came to Shelbyville for several days to film a re-enactment of Josephine and her dishwasher using local residents. While filming, the crew also visited other areas in Shelbyville and met German exchange students enrolled at Shelbyville High School.

The film crew was impressed with how many people in the area new about the dishwasher and other inventions significant to the area.

Horace Tallman Hay Baler

Horace M. Tallman was the inventor of the 1st successful mechanical Pick-up Hay Baler. Tallman was born in 1863 in Shelby County and later moved to Shelbyville. In 1905, he spent long hours building small models of hay balers and sold his first invention to the Ann Arbor Machine Co. in 1915. He bought the company four years later when they went bankrupt. In 1922, he moved the company and equipment to Shelbyville. Mr. Tallman passed away April 17, 1929, and his sons continued the work. In 1930, a farmer bought and operated a brand new Ann Arbor pickup baler, setting a new record for getting such a radically new machine into production. By 1935, the family was operating in 19 countries. Oliver took over the company in 1943 and moved the operation in 1970. In 1980, the American Society of Agricultural Engineers dedicated a plaque in Shelbyville commemorating the importance of Tallman's hay balers to American agriculture.

Robert Root

Stop by the Shelby County Historical Society (SCHS) to learn more about the famous Shelbyville artist, Robert Root. A man prominent in the cultural life of Illinois—his most famous paintings include the Lincoln-Douglas Debate (which hangs in the Illinois State Capital Building) and the Lincoln Thornton debate (which hangs in the Shelby County Courthouse). Critics have declared that the artist's portraits of Lincoln as shown in these pictures are the best that have ever been painted. Literature on Root can be found at the SCHS or the Public Library.

Muralist

Stop by the Shelbyville Post Office to view a recently restored, beautiful painting, "Shelby County Fair Mural" by artist Sister Lucia Wiley. The mural was dedicated on June 13, 1941. It was painted using egg tempera, a paint that is made by combining egg whites with pigments and oil. The mural was funded through the Treasury Department's Section of Fine Arts. Sister Wiley's art is displayed in many Post Offices around the nation. To see her other work, please visit www.muralist.org.

The Sta-Rite employees received an Army-Navy "E" (for Excellence) Award both in 1943 and 1944. Sta-Rite employed 1000 persons during World War II. Sta-Rite is owned and operated by Robert N. Bolinger and R. Noel Bolinger II of Shelbyville. For more information visit the website at www.sta-riteginnielou.com.

Shelbyville

Located at the dam of Lake Shelbyville, the city provides attractive opportunities for residents and visitors alike. Shelbyville is also the County Seat and while on Abraham Lincoln’s circuit, the city became host for many of his famous debates. Our third courthouse houses a painting of the Lincoln-Thornton Debate and can be seen when court is not in session. We have historical districts that are worth walking through and many inventions were patented from people living in Shelbyville such as the dishwasher and the mechanical pick-up hay baler. Shelbyville has one of the only all 4-H fairs in the state. Shelbyville has such opportunities as a friendly town to explore; a beautiful city park that plays host to a family aquatic center and the famous Chautauqua Auditorium, as well as a charming Main Street where you can shop, eat, or enjoy a movie at our Roxy Theater. City of Shelbyville 217-774-5531.

Tower Hill

Once a thriving coal mining town with banks, stores, and churches, we are now a small community located between Pana and Shelbyville on Rt.16. Our children attend Pana school district, and our schools are used as Jefferson Junior High. We have the spirit of working together for a fall festival held every year the third week of September. There is a talent and variety show friday night, tractor pull, vendors and Produce 500 race, auction, and 50/50 drawing on Saturday. Our parade on the Saturday night of the festival is one to enjoy. Saturday night there is country music. With community church services held Sunday morning, and of course the demolition derby as a finale. -Oh, yes, you need to visit our community and park at Christmas; our lights are worth the trip.

Windsor

Windsor is the eastern gateway to Lake Shelbyville. Windsor being one of two cities in Shelby County has two highways going through town Rt. 16 and Rt. 32. Windsor sites 12 miles from Shelbyville, Sullivan, and Mattoon. We are 8 miles from Wolf Creek State Park and 10 miles from Lithia Springs Campground.

The heritage of Windsor folks is great-friendly neighbors, honest merchants, good schools, and friendly active churches, in short a good place to live. Windsor, a patriotic community, our goal is to get more people to fly the American Flag as our trademark. The Windsor Harvest Picnic is the longest running festival in Illinois. It includes good food, free entertainment, and rides for the young at heart. This year will be the 116th Harvest Picnic held in August.

Windsor Food Center is known for the Barnyard Burger, you will be able to purchase this at their new store on Rt. 16. For more information about Windsor and upcoming events you may go to www.windsorillinois.net or go to Facebook at W.H.A.T.

Dalton City was incorporated as a village on September 15, 1877 and is situated in Moultrie County. The first settlements were in 1852 by Harvey and Madison Walker. In 1858, Edward Bresnan settled in from Ireland, and many other Irish immigrants moved to the area. To this day, there are relatives of the Bresnan and Henneberry families residing and farming in Dalton City Area. The Hight Bank has been in the town since 1892 and was originally the Dalton City Bank and still serves the community today. The town itself is named after Thomas Dalton who helped lay out the original plat with James Roney. Dalton City has a population of over 600 people.

Sullivan definitely is “More than Just a Small Town” as it is the home of a variety of unique restaurants, recreation and shopping opportunities. Our Little Theatre on the Square is what Sullivan is known for and is the only Equity summer stock theatre in central Illinois. Since opening in 1957, it has been host to many stars such as Mickey Rooney, Alan Alda, and Ann Miller as well as countless others. The Little Theatre offers a variety of adult programs, as well as matinees for children. Moultrie County is the scenic route along Lake Shelbyville, as it is the home of three bridges that cross the lake. There is also Sullivan Beach and Sullivan Marina. Sullivan’s own Wyman Park and Tabor Park create hours of entertainment with tennis, horseshoes, baseball, hiking and fishing opportunities. The Civic Center is a public facility with an indoor pool, saunas, gym, racquetball courts and full weight circuit. Golf is also available on two local courses. Sullivan is proud of its heritage and we look forward to welcoming you to our town. You’ll also find flower, antique, and gift shops, fabric stores, and many handcrafted items. Arcola is nestled just off Interstate 57; this quaint community offers a variety of opportunities for working, relaxing, dining, shopping and learning for residents and visitors alike. Arcola celebrates its heritage as “broomcorn capital of the world” with the renowned Broom Corn Festival held every year the weekend after Labor Day. Visitors come for numerous broom activities, unique arts and crafts, free entertainment, and great food. The festival’s parade is home to the world famous Lawn Rangers, who twirl and toss their brooms. Arcola is also the birthplace of Johnny Gruelle, creator of Raggedy Ann and Andy. Each June, Raggedy Ann and Andy enthusiasts near and far gather to commemorate the National Toy Hall of Fame characters. Arcola’s historic downtown is lined with stately buildings and its original brick street. You’ll find a host of unique shops that offer art, antiques, locally made Amish baked goods and hand crafted Amish furniture.
